Singular Explosion of an Express Car.

On Tuesday afternoon, soon after 12 o'clock, an accident of a singular and remarkable character occurred in the passenger depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The train from the East had just arrived, and the express car had been run back to the baggage platform for unloading. Wm. McLaughlin and John Meaher, in the employ of Adams' Express Company, had entered the car for the purpose of taking out the packages, when a terrible explosion, as loud as a small cannon, startled the bystanders, lifted up the roof of the car, tore out the side and scattered the contents of the car all about the platform. Four men were injured by the explosion, and one is not expected to survive.

The car, in its shattered condition, was hauled out into Liberty street, to prevent any danger from fire, and the cause of the accident investigated, when it appeared that the explosion emanated from a small box of 36 pounds in weight, at first reported to be an "infernal machine," but really containing a large number of patent cannon primers of a new pattern, consisting of a brass tube about half an inch in length, filled with percussion powder, and a small twisted brass wire attached to the upper end, for fastening the primers together. The package was shipped from New York, and was being forwarded to General Fremont at St Louis. The box, say those who were at hand, had not been touched, but it is supposed that, in removing other boxes, it had slipped down, and a concussion produced which caused the explosion. The little primers were scattered about in every direction, and were eagerly gathered up by the curious.

The names of the parties injured by the accident are as follows:

Wm. McLaughlin, one of the men engaged in the car, was terribly laccrated by the primers. Both eyes were torn from their sockets, a cut over the eyebrow penetrated the skull, the nose nearly torn off, the right arm broken. The most serious injuries, however, were in the breast and abdomen, the latter penetrating the bowels and rendering his recovery almost impossible. Drs. Kern and Hauslentau first dressed his injuries, but after being removed to his boarding-house on Pike street, Fifth Ward, Dr. Dickson was called to administer to the patient.

John Meaher, who was also in the car at the time of the explosion, received an ugly wound about midway on the inside of the thigh. The flesh was deeply cut and the wound blead profusely. He was otherwise injured, but being remote from the box, escaped laceration of the face and body. The hats of both men were riddled and torn as with bullets. Meaher lives in a court of Spring alley, in the Fifth Ward. His life is not regarded in danger.

James Batchelor, a young married man residing in East Liberty, was standing on the platform in company with Captain Vandegrift, both employed in the Custom House, engaged in their duty of examining goods passing through the city, to ascertain if there are any "contrabands" among them. He was nearly opposite the car when the explosion occurred and was struck on the right leg by a piece of flying timber, causing a compound fracture of the bone below the knee. He was conveyed to the Custom House, where Dr. Walter dressed the injury, removing two pieces of bone, and leaving the limb in a favorable condition. Mr. Batchelor is a brother of our worthy collector of Customs, and much respected by a large circle of friends.

Michael Regan, a stable hand, who was standing on the platform, was slightly injured, but will not require the aid of a phisician.

The accident was the theme of conversation during the afternoon, and various rumors of "infernal machines," &c., were heard throughout the city, creating much excitement and a good deal of apprehension. But the truth was soon known, and all rejoiced to learn that the result was less serious then at first supposed.

At half past nine last night, McLaughlin was still alive, but very restless, and his physicians entertain little hope of his recovery.—Cincinnati paper.

The Great Wall of China.

Mr. Fonblanque communicates to the London Times an account of his visit to the Great Wall of China, in which he says—"Another day's journey brought us to Chataou, a hamlet at the foot of the great wall. The road for the last fifteen miles had been so bad, that we were obliged to leave our horses at Nankan, hiring in their place Tartar ponies. Nothing less sure footed than these shaggy, hardy little beasts could have carried us through those rugged mountain paths, which we would have done on foot but that one mile's march over the sharp rock which forms the pavement would have left us shoeless.

At daybreak on the following morning we climed the highest peak of the mountain range, and there standing on the top of the great wall, reflected on the stupendous folly of this wonderful world of human industry, which is said to have cost the country two hundred thousand lives, from sheer physical exhaustion. The wall, which is built of stone and brick, is twenty feet high and fifteen feet broad, surmounted by a double parapet, loopholed on the north side. As far as the eye can follow the mountain range it winds over the ridges of the precipitous black rocks like a gigantic serpent crawling along, and with its breath poisoning all around, for, turn where you will, nothing meets the view but the desolate, dreary track of rock, unrelieved by a blade of grass or a tuft of moss, and huge boulders strewing the base of the mountain sides. It was the whim of a tyrant to build a wall where Nature had already effected a barrier far more effectual than anything that human art could construct. However, there it remains, after a lapse of nearly two thousand years—a monument of the cruel folly of one man, and the patient industry and sufferings of many thousands.

Having made an abortive attempt at a sketch, and tried in vain to discover one redeeming feature in this vast scene of desolation, I secured my brick and descended to the pass, and remounted to proceed homeward. Our guard could hardly believe his senses—certainly he doubted ours. When at Nankan mine host inquired what we were going to the Great Wall for? Our honest answer met with no credit. Were there not walls everywhere? Was not the wall of Pekin much better worth looking at? And then, as for shooting, why come so far for game when it can be bought in the market at our very doors? His impression was evidently that we had some sinister project in view; but when we returned with the brick the good man simply burst out laughing, and set us down as a couple of harmless maniacs."

AN EXCITING INCIDENT.—A member of the Connecticut Fifth Regiment Volunteers, with General Banks' Division, in writing home, relates the following:

On last Thursday I was on the second relief guard from 11 P. M., until 1 A. M., when as I was treading my beat, guarding two springs of water, I thought I saw an object moving toward one of the springs at the further end of my beat. I stood for a moment and watched, when it remained stationery, but when I turned to go on it moved again; and at that I challenged, but got no answer; I then challenged again, and was about to do so for a third and last time, when the thing sank on the ground and began to move off. At that I fired, at a distance of about six rods, when he fell with a groan like a bull. As soon as I saw him fall, I got my neighboring sentry to help me carry him to the officer of the guard, to see where he was hurt. On examination, we found he was shot (as the doctors say) in the groin. We had his wound dressed and took him to the hospital, after taking away from him a pound and a half of arsenic, with which he was about to sweeten our spring. The camp was thrown into some excitement by the shot. We found a revolver on him, and why he did not use it I don't know. He is not fatally injured, and I'm glad of it, as he deserves a worse death.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 8, 1861.

Gun Boats for the Mississippi.

Seven gun-boats are being built for use on the Mississippi. They were to be completed by the 1st October. They are one hundred and seventy-five feet in length, fifty-one feet six inches beam, have two heavy engines each, and a small engine to pump water—these engines are placed below the water line; the boats have an average of six hundred and fifty tons each. The St. Louis Evening News proceeds with a farther description: "Of course the boats are built with a view to secure the greatest strength, with the lightest draught. They are therefore flat-bottomed, and constructed of the most massive oak timbers. The bottoms and sides are to be completely iron-clad, covered with iron plates two and a-half inches thick, made of the best charcoal iron, and bolted and rabbeted in the most secure manner. The sides are inclined inwardly, consisting of a frame of heavy timbers, covered with five-inch oak plank, and that covered in its turn with two and a-half iron plates. The inclination of the sides is made so as to present an inclined surface to the fire of a hostile battery, thereby lessening the force of the shots striking them, and causing them to glance off. The hull has the same inclination toward the keel; and a cannon ball striking it will glance into the water toward the bottom of the river, just as a ball striking the side would glance upward into the air.

The armament of each boat is to consist of fifteen guns—five sixty-eight pound columbiads on each side, three rifled cannon at the bow and two at the stern. The guns, mounted on carriages on the main deck, will project through port holes or embrasures, from which they will deliver their fire. The guns and gunners will be protected by casemates rising seven feet from the deck, built of heavy timbers, cased with iron plates. Thus, in an engagement, they will present an iron-clad surface, on all sides, to the fire of a hostile battery, while the gunners and crew would be completely protected from danger, except by a stray shot that should enter the embrasures."

The Lady Equestrianship at the Fair.—This was an interesting proceeding at the Fair. It was a grand sight to witness sixteen or seventeen ladies, in appropriate and handsome costumes, seated upon horses, proud of their burthens, upon the Fair Grounds.—The performance was beautiful. There was nothing to mar its delicacy and beauty. The following were the lady equestrians:

Miss Belle Case, of Polk county;
" Delma Belknap, of Washington;
" Susan L. Gearhart, of Clatsop;
" Deardorff, of Clackamas;
" Paulina Tompkins, of Clackamas;
" Fannie Kent, of Portland;
Mrs. Kester, of Oregon City;
" Poole of Washington;
" Edmonds, of Clackamas;
Miss Frankie Holmes, of Oregon City;
" Mollie Holmes, " "
" Susan Jackson, " "
" Julia Johnson, " "
" Amy Johnson, " "
" Henrietta Miller, " "
" Amanda Gaines, of Yam Hill;
" Jennie Gaines, of Yam Hill.

The first premium was awarded to Miss Case of Polk county, and the second to Miss Jackson, of Clackamas. It was a most difficult matter to award these premiums; but the committee stood up to their duty bravely, and gave general satisfaction—though it must be recollected that every young man had his particular favorite, and our favorite we understand can be found somewhere near Forest Grove.

Miss Belle Case, of Polk county, who received the first premium for fine riding at the State Fair, in some part of the late wheat harvest, we hear, drove four horses attached to the reaper, with perfect success. While she can thus make herself useful to her friends in the busy scenes of the farm, she is not a whit behind her sisters, anywhere, in her accomplishments for making home all that we desire it to be.

Astoria, Oct. 1st, 1861.

Editor Oregonian:

I wish you to tell me, if you can, how I can get rid of your neighbor, the Advertiser. The paper was sent to me when it was first started, and unfortunately I paid for it before the editor showed his colors. My history with the paper may be inferred from the following communication, which was sent to the editor:

"Astoria, Sept. 23, 1861.

"G. L. Curry, Esq., Editor Advertiser—"Dear Sir: I wrote you that unless the columns of the Advertiser could be purged from "sympathy with traitors, I did not wish it "longer sent to me. Instead of any improve"ment in this respect, each succeeding num"ber but adds to the evidence, long since suf"ficient that you not only sympathize with "traitors, but your whole feelings are enlisted "on the side of this wicked rebellion. I there"fore request that you send no more papers "to me. I have been vexed and mortified "with them already enough.

"Sam'l T. McKean."

The paper still comes. Our Government deals too leniently with newspapers that are doing all in their power to aid rebellion. The course pursued by these papers more effectually gives aid and comfort to the enemy than if the editor should shoulder his rifle and step into the ranks with them. The strength of the government is in the hearts of the people. If the people have confidence in the integrity of the administration, they will give it their hearty support and the government will weather the storm, and we will again have peace and prosperity; withdraw that confidence and all is lost. Destroy this government and freedom shrieks and dies forever. Surely newspapers should not be permitted the use of the mails to circulate such mischief. I have heard the wailings of a peace party for half a century, and know what they mean. The man who would draw his salary from government to the last hour possible, and then use his authority in the church to prevent his minister from publicly observing a day set apart by the President on the request of Congress, for fasting, humiliation and prayer, has feeble claims as a christian and patriot. This was done in this county and the man is of the peace party.* This continual whining about the unconstitutional acts of the President and suspension of the writ of habeas corpus tells the whole man. Thank heaven I hav'nt a wife that weak. Like Daniel S. Dickinson I don't know whether the President has adhered strictly to the letter of the constitution, and so far as putting down this rebellion is concerned, I do'nt care, and like him, if I had a traitor I would secure him if I had to suspend the writ and the traitor too. Excuse this half-sheet. I set down to write a few lines, but could not find a place to stop sooner.

Yours,

Sam'l T. McKean.

* The person alluded to here, is, as we are reliably informed, T. P. Powers, the late deputy collector, who has for many years been drawing a salary of $1500 from the government, he now has the audacity to oppose. We learn that Rev. Mr. Thompson, an old school Presbyterian, who is a worthy citizen and loyal man, having put up notices that he would observe the fastday in accordance with the President's proclamation, was prevented from doing so by the contumacious interference of this man Powers, and another equally leprous deacon of Mr. Thompson's church. They are both Advertiser men, and continue to support this disunion sheet, although respectable Union men in Clatsop County are like friend McKean trying to stop it.

From an Occasional Correspondent.

Washington City, Oct. 3d, 1861.

Editor Oregonian:

Arrangements are being made, as I have understood, by government, to receive from Oregon as many men into its service as may desire to enlist.

Col. Baker has now enlisted under his command 6,000 men, and has a most efficient corps of officers. This force was reviewed in front of the President's house on Saturday. They presented in their fine personnel, and their excellent discipline, as they marched down Pennsylvania Avenue, a grand sight.

Government bonds for the war debt of Oregon will be issued in five or seven weeks. The departments are crowded with business; that which is of most pressing importance in the exigencies of the country is first attended to—and the first business of importance most unquestionably is to sustain the government and to drive back the hordes which threaten its existence.

Government is preparing for effective movements. The enemy, if forced, will make desperate fight here, but he will not attack Washington. To arrest the advance of traitors, government is now stretching forth its strong arms. Surmounting a few reverses in the commencement of its endeavors to quell the rebellion, it is now getting fairly under way and will now soon sweep every thing of secession from the land and the seas. Its hundreds of blockading vessels will completely lock up the South. And when the season permits, our armies will move South, from the Mississippi to Washington, and military forces will be thrown upon the sea coast, where the enemy are now in power.

Archbishop Hughes.

In a late published letter from Archbishop Hughes, of New York, to Bishop Lynch, of Charleston, South Carolina, says:

The Government originally agreed upon by all the States has lasted during a period of between seventy and eighty years. During this time its executive administration was enjoyed by the South for fifty-two years. No Northern President has ever been re-elected.—Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Jackson have each discharged that office for a term of eight years. The conclusion is, then, that out of seventy or eighty years of the administration of our Government, fifty-two years have enured to our patriotic men of the South. This fact involves the potentialities and powers of the Government as having been exercised by supremacy on the part of the South. The Navy, the Army, the incumbents of the Supreme Court, were not ignorant of or insensible to this fact. Now I put it to your candor to say whether, after such a history of the administration of our country, the South might not have tolerated the occupancy of the Presidential chair by the present incumbent, who, with his Northern predecessors in that office, could hardly expect to survive officially the ordinary four years of a Northern Supreme Magistrate?"

British Columbia Mines.

The Victoria newspapers are giving great news from the gold mines of British Columbia. The Victoria Press of the 22d ult. says:

The Otter arrived last evening at 10 o'clock, bringing about $100,000—the principal portion being in private hands—and 45 passengers, 24 of whom were Chinamen. Two men named Patterson brought down $10,000 each, as their summers work. Four Chinamen had $6,000 each. Two large nuggets came down, one weighing 22 ounces—the largest piece that has yet been taken out of the gold mines of the neighboring colony. The population in the Carriboo, according to the most recent accounts amounted to about 1,500, three-fourth of whom are at work. The most fabulous strikes are being made on Williams and Lowhee Creeks. On the former, a miner, named Abbott, recently sold out his one-third share for $10,000. There are a number of the claims on the same creek extremely rich. Willoughby, of Lowhee Creek, has sold out his fourth share of a claim for $4,000, after taking out $17,000 to his own share.

A Patriot.—The democratic convention of Ohio, nominated Hon. J. Scott Harrison, for Governor. He respectfully declined the nomination in a communication to the chairman, in which he refuses to be identified with any movement which does not sink party and stand up for the country, the suppression of rebellion, and the enforcement of the Constitution and laws.

"I certainly owe to the Republicans, as a party, no debt of political obligation, and yet I do not hesitate to say that the Administration has my warmest sympathies in its efforts to put down this rebellion, and I am in favor of doing this effectively and permanently—peace if we can, or war if we must. I am for peace, but I am for the Union before peace, for I know without the Union we can have no peace."

News Items.

Wm. Logan, Esq., of the Umatilla Agency put into our hands a very rich piece of gold bearing quartz found on the head waters of one of the rivers near Grande Ronde. It was beautiful and rich. Near where this was found, a short distance from a "divide," gold quartz will be likely to be found in situ. Mr. Thomas Carter, a well known citizen of this city, whose nephew has made other discoveries, left on Monday's boat, to make thorough investigations. Discoveries are being constantly made, on the rivers in Oregon emptying into Snake river, which increase the confidence in the richness of that region as a mineral country. Men of judgment and who have knowledge of the upper country, are giving it as their conviction that in three years there will be a greater population east than west of the Cascade range in Oregon.

Suppressing Discontent in the South.—This is done by taking all the property of the discontents and sending the men into the confederate army.

That Beautiful Silk Bed-spread, on exhibition at the Oregon State Fair, made up by the handy fingers of Mrs. Wm. Barlow, of Clackamas county, is to be sent as a present to Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln. It is a beautiful present. The family of the Barlows' were old friends of President Lincoln.

The Senatorship.—About 22 patriots have applied to Gov. Whiteaker for Senator Baker's place in the Senate. We hope our "straight-out Republican" Governor will give Senatorial appointments to all of them. It would be as sensible an act as he ever did in his political life.

The interesting report of the proceedings at the State Fair, published in the Oregonian, was not prepared by Mr. Francis.

Arrival.—The steamer Cortes arrived at San Francisco on the 29th ult., in two days and a half from the Columbia River.

To be Withdrawn.—It is rumored that news was received at the head-quarters at Vancouver, to the effect that all the troops in the regular service now stationed in Oregon and Washington Territory are to hold themselves in readiness for withdrawal from their post and that the deficiency is to be supplied by Volunteers to be called for from this State.

CITY.

ROADS SOUTH OF THE CITY.—An effort is now being made by Mr. John Stephenson to get subscriptions in aid of the bridges and roads south of town. It is understood that the Commissioners will cover the amount thus obtained, with an appropriation, for the purpose of putting the road in good repair. The citizens of this town ought to be willing to aid in this work, as it will enable the produce of the country to be brought to market in safety. Although the season is late, much good work may yet be done. We have every confidence in Mr. Stephenson's good judgment and faithfulness.

ACCIDENT.—While Mr. Waller, in company with a lady, was taking a drive Sunday afternoon, on the Vancouver road, in the vicinity of Mr. Clinton's house, the horse became unmanageable, and backed down an embankment a distance of about twenty-five feet, seriously injuring them. Mr. C. and lady kindly received them, and administered to their wants.

COUNTY COURT.—This Court was occupied yesterday in hearing motions on cases set for trial to-day.

REBELS NEAR CALIFORNIA.—The Alta of Sept. 30th says that a secession camp is forming on the Colorado, ten miles below the mouth of the Gila. This is the general rendezvous of secessionists who are leaving California. It is said they receive supplies from San Francisco. They expect troops from the East, and on their arrival intend to take Fort Yuma, and march upon the southern part of California, when their friends there give the signal for revolt. Probably Gen. Sumner has these rebels in his mind's eye, and for that reason he is organizing a large body of troops.

FIRE AT KERBYVILLE.—A fire broke out at Kerbyville on the 23d ult., in Morris & Taylor's building. The fire soon extended to John Steers' Saloon, on the opposite corner, which was totally destroyed. The Union Hotel was saved by great exertion. There was nothing saved from Steers' building but one billiard table. Morris & Taylor, and J. L. S—, contractor, lost about $4,000; John Steers, $1,000; Union Hotel, damaged $500; other parties small amounts. We take the above from a correspondent of the Jacksonville Sentinel.

THE GOOD TIME COME!—The people of California can now receive telegraphic communications from St. Louis in three days!—only some two thousand miles. In another month or so we presume, that a telegraphic dispatch which will leave St. Louis some day at ten o'clock a. m., will reach San Francisco the same morning at half past seven. This is about as near as man can come to annihilating time and space." When Mr. Strong completes his line of telegraph from Yreka to Portland, we shall be within two hours of St. Louis!

☞ Will our friends bear in mind that it is impossible for us to publish long communications? We must give variety to our paper. Occasionally we receive articles that would fill up a whole paper. Of course, whatever may be their excellence, we are compelled to lay them aside.

☞ The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. Of all the diseases, the first great cause
Springs from the neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, Diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs— such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. As a permanent cure is scarcely ever effected —a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the diseases, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures — Medicines, with full directions, sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.
